Conditions of Application, Placement and Participation

I. Applicants who wish to participate on the programme will be bound by the following conditions:

1. Applications for the 2008 season are to be made through our On-Line system which can be accessed via the www.campamerica.pl or the www.campamerica.co.uk websites, or by attendance at our special placement events. The Camp America On-Line system is administered by the American Institute For Foreign Study (UK) Limited ("Camp America") which acts as the centre for administration and central processing of worldwide applications. Applicants to the programme will be expected to have online access and meet the requirement of managing their application & participation via our online system, and accept all communications via online systems.

2. Applications from applicants cannot be accepted without the First Payment of PLN 390, paid via bank transfer or online. Discounts apply for applicants who have registered discount vouchers via our website and have complied with the rules described on them. Discounts may also apply for applicants who have been placed at one of the special placement events, and in other cases as announced by Camp America. The First Payment will be returned to you if your application is not accepted or a placement cannot be found. This payment will not be refunded if you cancel for any reason or fail to complete application formalities.

3. Booking a meeting with a Camp America consultant (the "consultation meeting") or acceptance of your application at a placement event constitutes application to the programme. Failure to supply a specific application form and/or references in the designated time will constitute cancellation from the programme and the First Payment will not be refunded. All references must adhere to our 2008 reference policy (as detailed on our website).

4. Your completed application is sent by the consultant for assessment by Camp America. Once your application has been checked and accepted by the US Camp America office, you will be advised via our On-Line system that your application is now ready to be shown to Camp Directors. At the same time we will confirm the payment you will receive at the end of your camp placement. At this stage you will be required to make a Second Payment of PLN 391. Your application will not be released for consideration by Camp Directors until this second payment is received. If your second payment is not received within 10 days after your acceptance for consideration by camps is confirmed, your application will be withdrawn from the programme and your First Payment will not be refunded. Please make copies of all documents you submit to Camp America, and don't supply us with originals of any important certificates as they will not be returned to you.

5. Substantial expenses are incurred by Camp America on your behalf while your application is considered by Camp Directors. If you withdraw following the consultation meeting, regardless the reason, you will forfeit your First and Second Payments. (At Camp America's discretion exceptions may be made in some cases of bona fide illness or medical incapacity as confirmed by a medical certificate.) If you decide to withdraw from the programme, you must inform Camp America immediately.

6. You are required to declare any relatives living in the US at interview. Failure to declare this information can have serious consequences for your visa application and may result in your dismissal from the programme, and any previous payments will be forfeited.

7. Medical Conditions - There are a number of medical conditions that render applicants ineligible for the programme. Please see the FAQ sections on our websites, www.campamerica.co.uk or www.campamerica.pl for the details of our current medical policy. Having checked the website, please discuss with your Camp America consultant any medical problems that you have or have had in the past which may affect your chances of being placed or of participating on the programme. Failure to disclose relevant medical information at the earliest opportunity is grounds for dismissal from the programme. Any payments already made will be forfeited, and our medical insurance policy rendered invalid.

Please note that pre-existing medical conditions may not be covered by Camp America's insurance provider, and participants may be required to buy a supplementary non-Camp America policy at their own additional expense to ensure they have sufficient coverage for programme participation. For further information on Camp America's medical insurance, please see our website.

8. Even after you have attended the consultation meeting and are accepted as a candidate for the programme, and after being offered a place, it remains your responsibility to inform the Camp America office in writing of any material change to your medical circumstances. Camp America reserves the right to vary, delay or cancel your placement should your medical circumstances deteriorate between the time of your application and the date that you are due to depart for the United States. Please note that some camps may require immunizations for Hepatitis A or B, Mumps, TB or other diseases and any costs incurred are the responsibility of the applicant.

9. Criminal Offences - Please note that we actively promote equality of opportunity for all our applicants and seek out the right mix of talent, skills and potential and we welcome applications from a wide range of candidates. We select all candidates for the programme based on their skills, qualifications and experience. At the consultation meeting, or in a separate discussion, we ensure that an open and measured discussion takes place on the subject of any offences or other matter that might be relevant to a position with Camp America. However, failure to reveal information that is directly relevant to the position sought could lead to withdrawal of an offer of employment. Failure to disclose details of criminal convictions (including juvenile, cautions and current charges) are grounds for dismissal from the programme, and will lead to any deposit payments already made being forfeited. If you have had incidents with the law, you are advised to check our website and discuss such matters with your interviewer or the local recruitment office before you are interviewed for the programme. Please note that because all our participants work closely with children our programme comes under the Rehabilitation of Offenders Act 1974 (Exception) Order 1975 and you must therefore declare relevant spent convictions.

10. Camp America requires all participants to provide Criminal Background checks (see our website or talk to your interviewer for details). Charges for a criminal record checks vary from country to country and payment will be the responsibility of the applicant. Camp America reserves the right to dismiss anyone from the programme without compensation or refund if they are found to have concealed any criminal conviction, caution or pending charge. You are therefore advised to make such information known at the earliest possible opportunity. If you have problems with legal authorities between applying to the programme and embarking for the United States you must notify the office of AIFS in Warsaw via email or in writing. Any attempts to conceal such incidents are grounds for dismissal from the programme and will lead to any deposit payments already made being forfeited.

11. For all applicants, even if your application is received and accepted, there is no guarantee that a camp director/resort director will offer you a summer position. A match is needed between the needs of the camp/resort and your availability, experience and special skills. If a position cannot be found, you will be informed as soon as possible (certainly by 30th June) and have your First and Second Payments refunded no later than August 30, provided that you have supplied us with full and correct data of your bank account.

12. When a camp/resort placement is found, Camp America will inform you immediately via our On-Line system and you will then be required to pay a final group of payments (see website or the Camp America 2008 brochure for specific amounts). Please note the final payment charge detailed in the brochure is correct as of 1st August 2007 and includes prevailing fuel, security and air tax charges. These charges may be subject to increase by airline or government authorities without notice and any such increases may be passed on to participants at our discretion. Your final group of payments includes a compulsory medical insurance premium, the remainder of the SEVIS/DS2019 Administration Fee, regional flight surcharge, final deposit payment and airport/security taxes. In addition, you may choose to pay an optional baggage insurance (see website for optional insurance charges). If you are taking part in the "Buddy Option" (placement together with a friend on the same camp/resort), you will have to pay an additional payment of ca. EUR 90 if the placement for you and your friend on the same camp/resort is found. Please note that if Buddy Option placement is not found, you agree to accept an individual placement and your First and Second Payments will not be refunded to you if you cancel. Cancellations at the point of placement must be notified immediately and cannot be inferred by non-payment of the fees.

13. Once your placement or guaranteed placement have been confirmed and upon receipt of the second payment, Camp America will dispatch the DS2019 visa application form required for application for the special J-1 visa from your nearest American Consulate. You cannot participate on the programme without a J-1 visa stamped in your passport. This visa is obtained by attending a face to face interview at your nearest American Embassy/Consulate. All US embassies now impose dollar based visa fees mandated by Congress, which you will be required to pay in addition to Camp America payments (see our website for the most recent details). Applicants are also responsible for the costs of travel to and from their visa appointment (see our website for further details of embassy procedures). Applicants are advised to complete visa interview formalities as soon as possible once placement is confirmed. Interview appointments become very booked up after April 1st - and failure to book a timely appointment will constitute cancellation from the programme. If you are refused a visa by the American Embassy/Consulate, your programme fees will be refunded once proof of refusal is received.

14. After placement, if you fail to participate for any reason, the First Payment will be forfeited. The second and final payments, together with any regional flight surcharges, may be refunded to you only in the case of proven visa refusal or medical incapacity as confirmed by a certificate issued by a hospital, and at Camp America's discretion.

15. In addition, if after receiving a placement you withdraw within 30 days of your flight, you will be required to pay an additional $300 contribution towards your unused flight ticket. Penalties are necessary because of the expense of flight reservations and flight cancellation penalties, consultation meetings, matching applicants with vacancies and general administrative costs involved in the programme. Camp America must be informed immediately of all cancellations.

16. It is the duty of every Camp America participant to comply with the requirements of the medical policy and criminal record check procedures of Camp America. Failure to disclose relevant information or to complete the required paperwork at the appropriate time can lead to termination from the programme and the forfeiture of all payments (see our website for the Camp America medical and criminal record check requirements). In order to conform with the requirements of US government J-1 visa regulations all participants on our programme are required to have and pay for our US operated medical policy. You may not apply for the Camp America program unless you are willing to pay for the medical insurance policy, and you may not participate on the Camp America programme unless you have paid for the required medical policy premium. It should be noted that any claim relating to pre-existing medical conditions (even if previously declared, and if not declared on the Camp America medical form) as defined in the Camp America plan of insurance will not be covered.

17. You are required to complete a 9-week assignment (camp) or 12-week assignment (resort). Participants taking a Day Camp placement may be required to undertake a 10 week placement due to the time off given during the placement. If, through no fault of your own, your initial placement is unsuitable, Camp America will do its best to find you an alternative placement enabling you to fulfill your commitment. In order for Camp America to begin search for the alternative placement you will need to quit the original placement and wait for the alternative placement information at a place agreed on with Camp America. You will need to cover the cost of your stay at that place and subsequently the travel costs to the alternative placement. During this time you will be required to maintain daily contact with our US office or will be deemed to have left the programme and visa cancellation will ensue. Participants who do not accept a new placement at that time will be liable for the cost of their return flight. If for any reason you fail to complete your assignment and/or engage in conduct that in the opinion of Camp America is deemed detrimental, you will forfeit your pocket money, application payments, airport tax contribution, insurance payment and all other payments. You will also jeopardise your visa status and will have to fly back to your homecountry at your own expense. You will not be permitted to remain in the United States under the terms of your J-1 visa and must leave the country or regularise your immigration status immediately. Camp America has a legal and moral obligation to report to the US authorities anyone who leaves the programme prematurely or who in any other way violates their J-1 cultural exchange visitor's visa. You will also be liable to pay US$750 to cover costs incurred by Camp America.

18. In most instances your departure airport will be assigned according to the country from which you apply. The flight will either be free or subsidised and a regional supplement will be due. In certain countries you may have a choice of departure airport (see our website for full flight details).

19. No changes to your choice of departure airport can be made after 1st April.

20. All participants should be aware that the camp/resort is charged a fee in respect to the costs associated with organising the Camp America programme. This fee is charged in all circumstances without exception and applies equally to returning or pre-placed participants. Further information is detailed on our website.

21. Late applications will only be accepted for pre-placed applicants up until 15th May 2008 (depending on availability of embassy interviews in your country of application).

22. If you reject your assigned westbound flight within 48 hours of your flight Camp America will charge you a late flight change fee of US$100 to cover administrative and airline costs. You can change the date of your return flight from the USA provided that you fulfil relevant conditions and make the additional flight change payment (check your on-line flight information for details).

23. You are required to leave the US at the end of your camp/resort stay or optional travel period. Your total stay in the United States cannot exceed 5 months or October 31, 2008, whichever comes first. The United States Government has greatly improved systems to track participants who overstay their visas and the penalties involved may well include lifetime bans for the violator and their relatives. Camp America will assist the United States authorities in every way to deport anyone who violates the privileges of their J-1 cultural exchange visitor's visa. In addition to reporting all violators of the visa to the US authorities, Camp America will report all such visa misdemeanors to the university, college, employer and referees of anyone who abuses the privileges of the visa.

24. In operating the Camp America programme, the American Institute for Foreign Study (UK) Limited is an employment agency under the Terms of the Employment Agencies Act 1973.

25. Camp America may refuse to accept an application, or may reject an application at any stage without stating the reason.

26. Applicants should be aware that all refund claims should be submitted by November 30th in the year you applied for or participated on Camp America programme. No further claims will be accepted after this time.

II. Camp America will:

27. Arrange a return flight from London to the U.S. (return from New York) and send you full details about the arrangements made. If you are designated to fly from another European airport, an additional fee may apply (see our website). All applications received after 1st April should expect to depart from London, although every effort will be made to arrange for a regional departure.

28. Assist you in obtaining a J-1 U.S. visa by provision of the DS2019 and give you information relating to your work in the camp/resort and your stay in the U.S.

29. Provide lodging at a hotel or hostel selected by Camp America for the day of your arrival in the New York area, except where specified in your flight/travel to camp information supplied via our on-line system.

30. If applicable, Camp America will arrange transportation for your arrival in New York to the Camp America accommodation following your June transatlantic flight. It should be noted that we will provide instructions for onward travel to your camp at the hotel. Participants should expect to undertake transportation from the hotel to camp (which will be via plane, bus or train) by themselves. It should be noted that travel costs incurred at this time should be paid by the participant, but that these costs will be reimbursed by your Camp Director upon production of receipts. Transportation to camp/resort will not be arranged by Camp America for participants who have previously arranged to be on the 'Own Transport' scheme, nor for those for whom May or July transatlantic flights have specially and individually been arranged. For more information, please see the OT contract available on the website.

31. In return for a medical insurance payment (included in the final group of payments) we arrange for insurance to cover your medical treatments up to $500,000 (semi private room only) and the cost of flying you home if medically necessary. Participants pay the first $50 in respect of each separate sickness or injury. The insurance does not cover any pre-existing conditions and covers only certain forms of emergency dental treatment (see "Plan of Insurance" for details).

32. Keep available at Camp America headquarters in Connecticut during normal business hours throughout your stay in the U.S. a member of our staff for purposes of consultation who can be reached by telephone +(203) 399 5000 (from outside the US) or on free-phone 1 866 222 2074 (inside the US) and provide emergency back-up services. Emergency back-up service is also provided outside office hours (i.e. 24-hour emergency coverage) by either phoning the above number and being connected to our answering service, or by phoning Protocol direct on 1 888 868 454430.

33. Payment of the full pocket money ("suma gwarantowana") as confirmed in your online personal placement profile will be awarded based upon the following criteria of days worked - 63 days for Camp, 70 days for Day Camps and 84 days for the Resort programme. If you do not work the full amount of days indicated above for your respective program, you will be awarded your pocket money on a pro-rated basis upon the number of days you actually worked. If you leave the program for any reason, you will also only be given pro-rated pocket money based upon your actual days worked.

34. The amount of pocket money ("suma gwarantowana") is a gross amount. Therefore, in some few instances taxation may be deducted from the amount of after camp payment you receive. You can claim this money back from the United States Government. Camp America will assist you in obtaining this refund by referring you to a commercial tax assistance company who will charge for their services. Please note that you are responsible for payment of any taxes due in your home country and that Camp America employees cannot assume the role of your tax advisors.

III. The Applicant will:

35. Agree to complete all visa requirements including attending personal interview at the United States Embassy or Consulate at your own expense in accordance with the instructions thereof and to be responsible for obtaining a valid passport at least three months prior to departure and to comply with all vaccination and immunisation requirements.

36. Agree to be present in good time for all flights or other transportation provided or arranged by Camp America. Camp America will not provide or be responsible for alternative transportation, except in the case of illness or accident in accordance with its group insurance policy.

37. Understand that Camp America and its staff undertake at all times to treat applicants and enquirers with courtesy and respect. In return for this we require our applicants to always be courteous and polite to our staff and associates. You therefore agree that hostile or aggressive behaviour by applicants or persons acting on their behalf will result in immediate cancellation from the programme and the forfeiting of all payments.

38. Agree to abide by all lawful rules and reasonable regulations of Camp America contained herein and of the camp/resort in which you are placed.

39. Agree to work for the required period at the camp/resort to which you have been assigned. In some cases less or more weeks may be required, this will be confirmed on your placement letter. If your assignment is for more than 9 weeks (Camp America - residential camps), 10 weeks (Camp America - Day Camps), or 12 weeks (Resort America), extra payment should be agreed in writing directly with your Camp/Resort Director.

40. Agree to abide by all appropriate regulations and instructions of the U.S. Government, including returning home no later than 30 days after the visa expiry date, or 5 months after entry to the U.S. (whichever date comes first).

41. Agree that in order to protect the children in the facilities to which we send staff, Camp America reserves the right to cancel placement without explanation right up to the moment of departure. In these very rare circumstances, at Camp America's discretion, a refund of charges will be made.

42. Agree to carry out your Camp Counsellor/Campower duties and other responsibilities towards the participating camp/resort to the best of your ability and with due respect and to take full advantage of the travel opportunities at the end of your camp/resort programme in accordance with the rules and guidelines set out in the Camp America programme brochure and handbooks.

43. Agree to leave the U.S. at the end of your stay on or before the termination date of your visa and will not attempt to return subsequently to the United States without complying with U.S. visa requirements.

44. Agree not to accept any form of paid employment in the U.S. during your stay other than within your duties as a Camp Counsellor/Campower worker with the designated camp/resort, except for these camppower/resort participants who have been permitted to accept post-camp employment at facilities agreed upon with Camp America. The addresses of these facilities and other data as required by Camp America have to be reported to Camp America, in a way required by Camp America, before the start date of the employment. Failure to fulfil this condition will lead to immediate cancellation from the programme and forfeiture of all payments, the insurance, the return flight and the J-1 visa.

45. Understand that Camp America flights, unless specified otherwise, will normally depart from and return to London (unless announced otherwise and a special surcharge is paid to Camp America in order to depart from another airport) and that you are responsible for any other transport costs prior to departure and upon your return.

46. You further understand that you must also make your own way back to your assigned U.S. departure airport (usually New York) at the end of the programme in time for your return flight and pay any transportation costs from your camp/resort to the airport.

47. Co-operate fully with those supervising the programme on behalf of Camp America, and you agree to abide by any reasonable instructions they may give you.

48. Understand and acknowledge that you are not an employee or agent of Camp America or any affiliate thereof and agree not to make any representations to any third party or employee of the participating camp/resort to that effect. You understand that you are a cultural exchange visitor and not an employee of the camp to which you are assigned.

49. Understand that Camp America does not own or in any way assume responsibility for the operation of camps/resorts. The running of each camp/resort is solely at the discretion of its proprietor and/or director. As a consequence, Camp America cannot, and does not, accept liability for any decisions, actions or omissions of whatever nature made by or on behalf of the proprietors and/or directors of the camps/resorts, including the quality of living conditions, work conditions or work atmosphere. If you consider that you have suffered any loss, injury or damage whatsoever as a result of any such decisions, actions or omissions, your right to recourse lies against the director or proprietor of the individual camp or resort. Your acceptance of a placement with a camp/resort is subject to this condition.

50. Understand that the responsibility of the camp to you is limited to housing, food, linen, the cost of transport from the arrival city in the U.S. to the camp/resort, and the after-camp payment paid to you by the camp/resort. If any problems should arise between you and your camp/resort during the course of your stay, you must promptly inform our representative at the Camp America office in Connecticut.

51. Warrant that information given in the application procedures by you is honest and accurate and agree that you will perform your duties to the best of your ability. Providing false or misleading information about yourself will lead to cancellation from the programme.

52. Be responsible for any liability, obligation, loss or expense including court costs and legal fees, incurred by Camp America, its staff, agents, employees and organizations affiliated with it, the participating camp/resort or third party resulting from any injury, loss, property damage or expense that you directly or indirectly cause or to which you contribute in any way.

53. Understand and acknowledge that Camp America, its affiliates, agents and employees, will act on your behalf in arranging transportation in connection with your appointment as a Camp Counsellor/Camppower worker and in providing other services.

54. Waive and release Camp America and its affiliates, agents and employees from any claims whatsoever arising from any injury, loss, damage, accident, delay, or expense resulting from events beyond its control, including without limitation acts of God, acts of war, strikes, incidents of politically motivated violence, terrorism, sickness or quarantine, government restrictions or regulations, and, in the absence of gross negligence (or negligence in the case of personal injury) by Camp America, arising from the use of any vehicle or from any act or omission by any agent or employee or guests of the participating camp, individual, firm, or company in relation to transportation to, from and within the U.S. or another facility or service organised on your behalf.

55. Understand that Camp America or its affiliates or agents may, without liability, or expense to themselves take whatever action they deem appropriate with regard to your health and safety and may place you in a hospital for medical services and treatment or, if no hospital is readily available, may place you in the hands of a local medical doctor for treatment. You undertake to reimburse us, our agents or the summer camp/resort in which you are placed for any expenses incurred by us or them in taking any action reasonably considered necessary in the interests of your health and safety, which is not covered by the medical insurance policy. If deemed desirable by Camp America or its agents, you authorise them to transport you back to your country of origin at your own expense.

56. Understand that Camp America considers children and young people to be individual and valuable members of society who have an unconditional right to be treated with dignity and respect. As such they should be fully protected against any exertion of inappropriate power, whether sexual, physical or emotional. Camp America will fully support any action taken against perpetrators of abuse.

57. Consent to their personal information being held, processed and disclosed by Camp America both within and outside the EU. Participants understand that data will be transferred both electronically and by physical means between AIFS offices and US employers, government departments and airlines and have supplied this information for the purpose of seeking seasonal work/placement in the USA and in order for Camp America to arrange transport and visa services. For the purposes of this clause personal data includes but is not limited to all information supplied on application forms, medical forms and criminal record confirmations. For full details on how we use personal information see annex "Zgoda na przetwarzanie danych osobowych" and our website campamerica.co.uk/privacy.

58. Understand that the law of the State of Connecticut should apply to the Agreement between us and you agree to submit to the jurisdiction of the Connecticut Courts.
